1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a magneto-optical recording and reproducing apparatus, such as a magneto-optical disk, a magneto-optical head, and a magneto-optical readout system for use in the magneto-optical disk apparatus and the like,

which are used in connection with a magneto-optical disk which forms signals by using the laser beam while the disk is rotated at a relatively high speed. 2. Description of the Prior Art The magneto-optical recording and reproducing apparatus may be roughly classified into the optical type and the optical magnetic type in accordance with their employment of laser beam. The laser beam of the optical type magneto-optical recording and reproducing apparatus is focused on a recording layer of a magneto-optical disk such as a magno-optical disk. At this time, a signal is read out from the recording layer through the process of causing the Kerr effect, Faraday effect, or some other magneto-optical effect to occur in the recording layer while applying a laser beam to the same at a power level from "0" to "n.sub.0 " while controlling the laser beam from the outside of the disk. Meanwhile, the laser beam of the optical magnetic type magneto-optical recording and reproducing apparatus is focused on the magnetic layer of a magneto-optical disk such as a magno-optical disk.
